Flexible Prop Plan Near End

High-Support Farm Bill Goes To House

WASHINGTON (AP) — A catch-all farm bill rejecting the administration's call for flexible price supports was all but completed by the House Agriculture Committee Wednesday.

Chairman Hope (R-Kan.) said at the conclusion of the day's bill-drafting session that a completed measure would be voted out by committee later in the day or Friday.

Covering almost every phase of the government farm program, the committee version is based on continued high support prices for another year. It calls for upping dairy price supports above levels set by Secretary of Agriculture Benson, however, include administration proposals for a 2½ billion dollar set-aside of surpluses, and a subsidy encouragement of the wool growing industry.

Surplus Plan Ok

President Eisenhower's request for use of surpluses abroad was passed separately by the House in a bill authorizing the sale, trade or barter of a billion dollars worth of U.S. farm commodities abroad. The gift of another 300 million dollars worth for foreign famine or disaster relief.

About all that remains for the committee to do Thursday is provide for treatment of farm land diverted from surplus crops to other uses under government controls.

The committee Wednesday disposed of what shaped up as its final thorny problem—support prices for peanuts, now in heavy surplus.

In the face of a move by some Congress members to knock peanuts out of the bill as a basic crop entitled to parity, the committee voted to continue support at the present level but to drastically reduce acreage allotments.

Benson Powers

In effect, the peanut section of the bill would allow the secretary of agriculture to cut acreage until supply and demand balance. Parity is a standard calculated to be fair to farmers in relation to the cost of things they must buy.

In another action, the committee voted to continue the present method of computing parity for milk used for manufacturing purposes, principally for making butter.

The provision has the effect of preventing support prices from falling 3 to 4 per cent on manufacturing milk, and maintaining the present parity relationship with fluid milk.

Ag Fund Bill Passed

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Senate and House passed Wednesday the one-billion-dollar Agriculture Department appropriation bill and sent the measure to the White House.

The compromise legislation carries a Democratic-sponsored 35-million-dollar increase in lending authority for the Rural Electrification Administration.

The House originally proposed to give REA only 100 millions in new lending authority but a Senate compromise led by Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.) succeeded in raising the figure.

No Debate

Final Senate action came by voice vote and without debate a few hours after the House adopted the measure to operate the sprawling department in the fiscal year which begins July 1.

The bill provides 723 million in direct appropriations and about 350 millions in new lending authority, including the 135 million for REA.

The Senate originally voted direct appropriations of 723 million while the House provided 720 millions. Senate-House conferees agreed on the compromise.

Bartunek Seeking Legislature Seat

Leo N. Bartunek, Lincoln lawyer, filed with the secretary of state Wednesday for nomination to the state Legislature from the 19th District.

Tom Adams and Edward L. Witte Jr., both of Lincoln, had filed previously for the post.

The district was represented at the last regular session by Sen. Howard Brit of Lincoln. He died later and his widow was appointed by Gov. Robert Crosby to serve during the recent special session.

Raecke: 'I Will Not File For Any Public Office'

... Demo Clarifies 1954 Position

Walter R. Raecke of Central City, twice Democratic candidate for governor, Wednesday effectively silenced rumors concerning his immediate political future.

Raecke issued a statement announcing that he "will not file for any public office to be voted on at the Aug. 10, 1954, primary election."

Making the statement even more definite, Raecke added that he will not accept any filing which might be made on his behalf.

Raecke's complete statement is as follows:

"Some of my friends have been kind enough to urge that I file again as a candidate for governor, while others have suggested that I file as a candidate for U. S. Senator or for Congress from the Third District. I appreciate their suggestions and thank them for their interest."

"Ordinarily, political announcements ought to come from those offering themselves as candidates for public office and this year they have until July 1 to do so. One who does not intend to file ought to have the simple privilege of remaining silent."

"However, because of the interest indicated by the many inquiries I receive daily, I have decided to make a statement to the public."

Neville's Decision Awaited

Democratic State Chairman Wm. H. Meier of Minden expressed a "great admiration" for Senator Raecke and the service he has given the state and his political party. Seeking of public office he viewed as a "personal problem" that each candidate has to decide for himself.

Meier said that if Sen. Raecke had reasons satisfactory to himself for not filing for public office, he would accept them also. The action of the Central City attorney turned attention to what action will be taken by former Gov. Keith Neville of North Platte, who was nominated this week by petition as a candidate for the U. S. Senate on the Democratic ticket.

Neville has until Saturday to accept the filing, but has stated that he will make an announcement on Thursday. Democratic leaders expressed confidence that he will accept the filing.

Some predicted that before the closing date for filings on July 1, several more entries would be made in the Democratic primary. Most mentioned is Edwin N. VanHorne, Omaha, president of the Federal Land Bank at Omaha, as a candidate for governor. William Ritchie of Omaha is at present the only candidate. A Clifford Anderson, Lincoln, is being urged to become a candidate for the short term for the U. S. Senate. He was the nominee for lieutenant governor two years ago.

Honduras Trouble Sprouts

Cops Fire On Crowd; 7 Persons Wounded

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP) — Trouble broke out Wednesday night in the Honduran backyard of the Guatemalan War. Honduran police opened fire on a Tegucigalpa crowd watching a noisy student demonstration and wounded seven persons.

Three of the injured were reported in a grave condition. The demonstration had been called by university students in support of Guatemala's Communist-influenced government. Speakers charged the Honduran government was at fault in not stopping the Guatemalan rebel leader, Col. Carlos Castillo Armas, from launching his revolution attempt six days ago from Honduras.

Eyewitnesses said police fired about 100 bullets into the crowd of 1,000 as it stood before the University Medical Faculty Building listening to speeches by leaders of the demonstration. Several thousand students and faculty members were inside the building.

Except for some scattered shouts favoring Guatemala's leftist government, eyewitnesses said there was no apparent provocation for the shooting. After the shooting, the police charged the crowd with clubs and finally scattered them. Student leaders said they would renew their demonstration Thursday.

The demonstration came shortly after the Honduran government charged Guatemalan aircraft bombed a Honduran airfield. The government said it is protesting to the United Nations and the Organization of American States (OAS).

Guatemala denied the charges.

Confused Picture

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP) — The anti-Communist invaders of Guatemala claimed Wednesday night they are moving on Guatemala City from three directions. The government radio countered the rebel broadcast statement with the claim that the rebels had been repulsed and were fleeing toward Honduras.

AMA 'Backhands' Salk Polio Vaccine Project

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The American Medical Association Wednesday took an indirect dig at the Salk polio vaccine project by urging "future voluntary health organizations" to consult with it or with state and county medical societies before inaugurating any treatment involving new drugs or new methods.

The step was taken at the instance of the Texas delegation which offered a resolution critical of some phases of the project under which thousands of children now are being vaccinated.

The resolution said the medical profession was "surprised and put into a difficult situation so far as public relations were concerned" because the AMA had not been consulted about the project.

'Insufficient Time'

The Salk vaccine project is sponsored by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in cooperation with the U. S. Public Health Service and health authorities in the various states and cities.

In New York, Dr. Hart E. Van Riper, medical director of the foundation, issued a statement which read:

"Every step in the development and trial of the polio vaccine was submitted to, supervised and approved by a committee of distinguished scientists, all of whom are members of the American Medical Assn. This vaccine advisory committee is headed by Dr. Thomas M. Rivers, director of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, and includes a member of the Board of Trustees of AMA."

'Two Years'

"This committee has had the subject of the vaccine trials before it for a period of at least two years and has been familiar with every phase of its development, including its testing in the field."

"The AMA is apparently confused in thinking this vaccine is one for immediate use. It is being tested at this time to determine its usefulness through

$29 Billion OKd

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate-House conference reached a compromise on the defense money bill, largest of all appropriations. Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.) said the compromise total will be "slightly less than $29 billion dollars."

"Last week's flood just about finished us," Sailors asserted. The area was inspected by Lloyd Woodward of the Civil Defense Regional office, Denver, who afterward in conference with state officials said his findings did not warrant a presidential declaration of a disaster area.

R. C. Stephenson of Omaha, representing the Army Engineers who also inspected the area, gave a similar negative report. The engineers, he said, have no funds for such assistance.

"I don't think inspectors flying over an area can get at the real facts," asserted Commissioner Gates of Johnson County. "If they will get down on the ground and go with us, I think we can convince them that we have a real disaster on our hands."

Said Pawnee County's Marshes, "The survey did not look at the county's financial position. The economic disaster must be related to the county government's capacity to meet it."

State Temps Hit 106 High

Western Nebraska's blast-furnace temperatures will move eastward Thursday, hitting the west coast off a little, the weather man predicts.

The high for the state Wednesday was a scorching 106 at Imperial. Other points reporting over 100 were North Platte, 103; Sidney, 102; and Scottsbluff, 104. Lincoln's high was 92.

The predicted high for the southeast Thursday was 100 degrees. The forecaster said that it would be fair except for a little rain in the West Thursday evening.

First Radar Arrest Appeal Made Here

What may be the beginning of a test of the use of radar in Nebraska as a speed checking device was started in Municipal Court Wednesday by Earle D. Gewecke of 1000 West A St.

Gewecke was found guilty of speeding and being clocked by radar after he pleaded innocent of the charge. He appealed a $5 fine to District Court.

Armed with a portfolio of technical data, Gewecke, who said he was a technician for the Army Transport Corps during the war, questioned extensively Burt Davis, electronics technician, on the aspects of radar. Gewecke said he worked with electronically controlled superchargers and altimeters during the war.

Gewecke's appeal of the case is the first in Lincoln, and thought to be the first in the state. If carried to the State Supreme Court, it will be the first test of the use of radar in Nebraska.

SE Counties Urge Closer U.S. Look At Flood Damage

... Still Seek Aid After 'Superficial' Air Tour

By B. R. ROTHENBERGER
Star Staff Writer

Southeast Nebraska counties stood in their flood-torn valleys and called for a closer look by civil defense authorities who flew over the area and concluded the damage was not severe enough to warrant federal aid.

Richardson County, down in the southeast toe of the state which received all of the impact of last week's storm that sent the Nemaha River and all its tributaries far out of their banks, described the air inspection as "too rapid and too superficial to reveal the real plight of the area."

Pawnee County as well as Johnson County agreed. Al said they will ask an on-the-ground inspection and added that the initial rejection would not end their quest for aid.

Thousands Leave Their Homes As Precipitation Round-Clock Fight

DES MOINES (AP)—Rising flood waters of the Des Moines River dug hard at the main river levees here Wednesday night and officials said the "critical hours have come" in the nip-and-tuck fight to keep the dikes intact.

"Tonight should tell the story," said Maj. Gen. Fred C. Tandy, Iowa's adjutant general, as he issued a call for more volunteer workers to help bolster the levees.

Some 7,500 persons obeyed a precautionary evacuation order as the swollen stream pushed to record heights.

The river, rising at about two-tenths of a foot an hour, pushed to a level of 29.5 feet at 8:30 p.m. CST. That was three feet above the previous record crest of 26.5 feet in 1947, and 6½ feet above flood stage.

Zero Hour Near

The weather bureau said the rate of rise showed signs of slowing and it estimated the final crest would be 30 feet or slightly above some time early Thursday morning.

City Manager Leonard Howell, after a tour of the threatened area, said "I think we've got a chance to lick it."

He said all levees in the southeast part of town now were in good shape.

He said, however, that a levee in the Riverview Park area in north Des Moines probably would not last through the night.

Sandbagging operations still were being carried out on the levee at Riverview but backwater was swirling around both ends. The water swirled through several industrial plants in the area.

Another crucial battle was being carried on at the Hayes Street levee, guarding the East Des Moines business district, where giant sand bolls developed, allowing the water to filter under the dikes.

More than 400 men, half of them National Guardsmen, labored to fill the sand bolls and to construct a secondary dike some distance behind the main levee.

Big Area Flooded

Flood waters already had covered a large area in the southeast bottoms. They also had spread out over the lowlands where the river enters the city at Des Moines' north end.

Inside Des Moines, recreational areas and some settled stretches of bottomland were under water.

A dike break, described by an Army engineer as secondary, sent several feet of water into parts of a north central section containing about 500 residences. About 100 of the homes, near Birdland Park, received some water.

President Eisenhower messaged Gov. W. S. Beardsley his "utmost sympathy" for Iowa flood victims and ordered a federal survey of possible emergency disaster fund needs.

The President later in the day designated 19 Iowa counties as major disaster areas because of flood damage, thus qualifying them for federal aid.

The counties are Sioux, Plymouth, Cherokee, Woodbury, Monona, Harrison, Ida, Clay, Calhoun, Kossuth, Humboldt, Webster, Boone, Hamilton, Hancock, Cerro Gordo, Franklin, Hardin and Polk.

Elsewhere in North Iowa the crisis eased.

—President Sends A Special Message— Ike Strongly Advises No Reduction In Foreign Aid

Program Calling For About 3½ Billion Gets Prompt Approval Of House Committeemen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Foreign Affairs Committee late Wednesday approved President Eisenhower's 3½ billion dollar foreign aid program without major changes.

It acted several hours after the President sent a message to Congress declaring that any cuts would be "unjustified and unsafe" in the light of the threat from world Communism.

Rep. Vorys (R-O) described the committee's vote "a mark of confidence" in the President and said it was the first time in his 16 years in Congress that he had ever known of a foreign aid bill getting through committee without heavy cuts.

The bill still has a long way to go, however, and Eisenhower addressed his appeal to the whole Congress. His message described the program as a comparatively cheap bulwark against "the continued ruthless drive of Communist imperialists for world domination."

Eisenhower asked for an au-

Ike Wants No Pension For Hiss

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said Wednesday President Eisenhower is against paying any government pension to Alger Hiss, former state department official who was convicted of falsely denying he gave secret information to a communist spy ring.

James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary, stated Eisenhower's position on the matter after commenting on a series of news stories.

Those stories said generally that the Eisenhower administration had taken the position through the Civil Service Commission and the Budget Bureau, the latter a White House agency, that the government is obligated to go through with retirement pay to federal employees even when they are imprisoned for criminal acts.

Hiss will be eligible under present law for a pension of $700 a year at age 62.

Court Stops Weigh Station Measurement

NORTH PLATTE, Neb. (AP) — An injunction issued in Lincoln County District Court Wednesday put a temporary stop to problems faced by truckers since the State Highway Department took over weighing stations June 1.

Judge John H. Kuns issued the injunction in response to a petition brought by attorneys for three truck drivers, naming personnel of the weighing station east of North Platte and Justice of the Peace Alma K. Delany of North Platte as defendants.

The petition claimed that the weighing station personnel have misinterpreted the state law regulating load limits.

The new operators of the North Platte station have set interior load limits for trucks by measuring the distance between any two sets of wheels. Maximum weight allowance is determined by truck length.

The Safety Patrol, which operated weighing stations until June 1, however, determined over-all truck lengths by measuring from the front axle of the cab to the rear axle of the trailer.

We sample milk that's 7 days old!

Every day, from the thousands of quarts of country-fresh milk packaged by Roberts Dairy, samples are set aside to "age" in the cooler for one week.

And every day, samples from the previous week are removed from the cooler and taste-tested for quality. Not once has the flavor been found impaired!

In your own home, you'll seldom have occasion to keep milk for more than a few days. But, by testing week-old products, Roberts makes sure that you get a safety factor far in excess of your requirements.

To our knowledge, no other mid-west dairy goes to the effort or expense of testing the keeping quality of its products. That's one reason no other milk tastes quite so good as Roberts!

County Equalization Board Works With 'Frantic Mess'

The Lancaster County Board of Equalization expects to burn the midnight oil right up to the deadline minute—Friday at midnight—of the 40-day equalizing period.

But the board says that some property owners who have filed complaints on real estate appraisals cannot be heard.

"There is little chance for a hearing for those persons who have waited until now to file a complaint," on board member said.

Board Chairman Chris Kuhner, describing the close of Wednesday's hearings as "a frantic mess," said 65 complaint hearings have been scheduled for Thursday and a few will be heard on Friday, the final day.

During night sessions, the board is catching up on an estimated backlog of 250 complaints—some which have been held up for re-checks by Wilkins and Associates or for other reasons.

The "arithmetic work" on these complaints is being done in night sessions and must be done before Friday at midnight, the board said.

"We'll need all the time we can get to finish this work," said one member. "Friday's hearings will be limited to those persons who did not receive notice of hearing because of mailing difficulties or other bona fide reasons."

At the close of Wednesday's session, the board had held 661 complaint hearings involving an estimated 800 properties or land parcels.

Asked what would happen to those persons who wanted to be heard, but haven't been, one board member said:

"We've done everything humanly possible to hear them all. What else can be done?"

Carpenter Takes New Post's Oath

WASHINGTON (AP) — Isaac W. Carpenter Jr. of Omaha was sworn in Wednesday as assistant secretary of state for personnel and administration.

Carpenter, on leave as board chairman of the Carpenter Paper Company, was nominated by President Eisenhower June 11 and confirmed by the Senate June 18.

Secretary of State Dulles, witnessing the oath-taking ceremonies, congratulated Carpenter and told him there was "a good deal of room for improvement" in the State Department's office of personnel and administration.

Pen Riot In Illinois Is Quelled

. . . 1 Inmate Killed

PONTIAC, Ill. (AP)—Waves of tear gas Wednesday night quickly quelled a riot of 450 prisoners in the Pontiac State Penitentiary, 80 miles southwest of Chicago.

One prisoner was killed during the disturbance. James E. Denny, state prison superintendent, identified the victim as Edwin Jenkins, 21, of Chicago. Jenkins, who had served two years of a 5-14 year term for assault and robbery, apparently was struck by an iron bar by another prisoner.

Denny made no damage estimate but he said it couldn't be much since "only several windows were broken and some fires were started but they were limited to trash cans."

Bergan said the riot started at 6:15 p.m., CST, in the west cell house—confining 600 prisoners—as the men were being returned to their cells from the mess hall. "The men started rioting as they filed into the cell block," Bergan said. "The last 150 refused to enter the block. They were taken to another block and locked up."

Lobbied in Shells

"We notified the rioting prisoners to file out quickly or they would be gassed. We waited a few minutes and then lobbed in some tear gas shells. More than 100 came out, their eyes streaming, after the first shells."

"We lobbed more gas into the block and all but 50 prisoners came out. All those who came out were choking and coughing."

"Another firing of gas, and then some of the guards, wearing gas masks, entered the block and brought out the last group of prisoners."

"One prisoner was found lying on the floor of the cell block. He had been killed by a blow on the head with what presumably was an iron bar. We haven't found the bar yet."

Heroic Nurse Plans Tour Of U.S. In July

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mlle. Genevieve de Galard-Terraube, the heroic nurse of Dien Bien Phu is expected to arrive in this country in mid-July for a tour of about three weeks. She is coming at the invitation of Congress, extended through a resolution sponsored by Rep. Frances P. Bolton (R-Ohio).

INDO-CHINA PEACE HOPE BRIGHTENED

BERN, Switzerland (AP)—French Premier Pierre Mendes-France met Wednesday with a leader of Red China and emerged with an unexplained hope for re-establishment of peace in Indo-China through the talks at Geneva.

The premier, who came to power on a platform of dealing directly with the real leaders behind the Vietminh rebellion, conferred for two hours with Chou En-lai, premier and foreign minister of the Chinese Communist regime.

Mendes-France returned by air to Paris immediately following his meeting with Chou. As he stepped off the plane he said: "We can be optimistic about the approaching development of the Geneva conference."

He described as "serving the good cause" his talks with the Chinese premier-foreign minister. They had what was described as a "frank and complete conversation" on the issues of the conflict.

230-Voice All-State Chorus Blends In Superb Harmony

By RUTH ARDIS

A chorus of 230 spirited young voices—the cream of the crop of high school singers from the state of Nebraska—blended in superb harmony Wednesday night under the direction of David Foltz.

The Student Union Ballroom was packed for the concert given by the All-Staters and the guest artists, the Song Fellows Quartet from Des Moines. The enthusiasm of the audience was matched by the evident enjoyment of the performers.

It would be difficult to choose any outstanding numbers by the All-State Chorus, for each selection was beautifully performed. The opening selection, "In the Beginning, God" (Foltz) was given its premiere performance by a high school group. For expression and sheer beauty of sound, "The Night Will Never Stay" (McKay) and "She Walks in Beauty" (Foltz) were highlights.

The blend and precision of the chorus were remarkable considering that the members have rehearsed together for only two weeks. The quality of the performance was almost equal to that of a university group. It was evident that these high school students had worked hard together under expert inspirational leadership.

The Song Fellows, well-known as one of the nation's outstanding male quartets on radio and television, proved themselves equally adept in entertaining a live audience. This excellent group of singers and their versatile accompanist performed several groups of novelty, folk, barbershop and conventional quartet classics. Clever arrangements of songs and the showmanship of the performers added much to the enjoyment of the audience.

Members of the Song Fellows Quartet include Stuart Steelman, Ken Black, Harris White and Bill Fischer with Bill Austin as accompanist. The accompanists for

West German Independence To Be Talked Again Unless EDC OKd Soon

... Secretary Dulles' Views Disclosed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles said Wednesday that, unless the European Defense Community (EDC) is ratified soon, it might be necessary to consider in other ways the matter of restoring West Germany's sovereignty.

The secretary's views were made public by the State Department after the West German ambassador, Heinz L. Krekeler, met with him.

The department said that Krekeler called Dulles' attention to a speech last Sunday by West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Adenauer said in that speech that the German people cannot wait indefinitely for restoration of their sovereignty. Delay in ratification of the European Defense Community, Adenauer said, should not keep deferring West Germany's return to full independence.

View Shared

"Secretary Dulles told Dr. Krekeler," the department announcement said, "that the view thus expressed by Chancellor Adenauer was fully shared by the government of the United States."

The West Germans are to receive sovereignty under the Allied-West German peace contract. However, as things now stand, this contract cannot come into being until the related EDC treaty is ratified by France and Italy.

In another speech Wednesday, at Bonn, Germany, Adenauer called for the fourth time in as many days for the United States, Britain and France to end their occupation controls of West Germany. He said it is "unbearable" for the Germans to wait longer for sovereignty.

The State Department statement further quoted Dulles as telling Krekeler:

"The United States government believes that there is a good prospect of an early completion of the ratifications of the European Defense Treaty."

Prompt Considerations

"If, however, this hope and expectation should not be realized it would be in the opinion of the U.S. secretary of state necessary that there should be prompt consideration to the restoration of sovereignty of the West German republic."

Such considerations, would presumably be among the three Western Allies which have control over West Germany as well as the EDC nations.

Arkansas Man Charged With Lincoln Stickup

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

A Farmington, Ark., man—identified by a 16-year-old service station attendant as the stickup man—has been charged with the $401 robbery of the Voight Oil Company at 3101 Adams, county authorities reported.

Charged with armed robbery is Carroll J. Yancey, 26, who was arrested Wednesday morning near Ashland after alert State Safety Patrolmen Lynn Parks and James Kontos spotted "suspect" license plates on his car during a radar speed check.

Dept. Co. Atty. Dale Fahrbruch said that Clinton Condon, 16, of 6125 Ballard, has "positively identified" Yancey as the unmasked man who held a small-caliber automatic on him last Friday and demanded the money contained in a bank bag.

Statement Given

Yancey has given a statement concerning his activities preceding and following the holdup, Fahrbruch said.

The 1947-model car which Yancey allegedly used in the holdup was traded for a 1952-model in Kansas City, Mo., the day following, according to his statement. He also admits spending considerable amount of money and disposing of the bank money-bag, Fahrbruch said.

Yancey was taken Wednesday afternoon to Lancaster District Court for arraignment on the charge, but during proceedings asked to consult with an attorney.

Judge Harry Spencer directed that Yancey be given opportunity to secure "counsel of his own choice" after questioning the defendant concerning his financial resources.

Yancey had waived preliminary hearing and a 24-hour waiting period after service of the complaint, before suddenly asking the court to appoint an attorney.

Following the holdup, young Condon furnished law enforcement officers with a description of the hold-up man and car with an out-of-state license, 87-550.

These numerals on an Arkansas plate were spotted by Troopers Parks and Kontos on Yancey's car. They said a .25-caliber automatic was found in the glove compartment.

Curtis Discusses Oil

It was not fully clear in the news story what Rep. Carl T. Curtis, of the First Nebraska District, now a candidate for the United States Senate, had in mind in his statement that he favors state ownership and control of both the oil and education programs.

Mr. Curtis apparently felt called upon to defend his vote to turn back Tidelands oil and all of its fabled riches to the tender mercies and financial enrichment of the states of Texas, California, Florida and Louisiana. It is stretching the point a bit to suggest even by indirection that Uncle Sam is preparing to lay claim to oil riches, if any, which may be developed within the boundaries of the inland states of this country. If Mr. Curtis sees a danger there it might be more charitable to charge it up to an overheated imagination.

The Tidelands issue—variously described as one of the great 'give-aways' which have taken place in recent months involves offshore oil beyond the sandy beaches at low tide. In the case of Texas that oil-rich shelf extends out under the waters of the gulf more than 20 miles.

Now Mr. Curtis is on record by his vote to turn back the royalties which will accrue to the states of California, Texas, Louisiana, and Florida, royalties which ultimately will run into the hundreds of millions of dollars. In voting Mr. Curtis nullified the practical effect of an earlier ruling by the United States Supreme Court. We do not question the sincerity of his vote but it might be more fitting if he saw fit to live with it when people question the wisdom of it without hemming and hawing all over the place. We do not think that he can justify that vote on the basis of Nebraska's natural, rightful interest in the distribution of Tidelands oil royalties among all the 48 states in the union. And if you are asking us, it is our judgment that the heavily burdened taxpayers of Nebraska could use their fair share of the royalties.

Strictly In Character

Nothing that R. W. (Bob) Devoe did during 18 years of unselfish service as a member of the Board of Regents of the University of Nebraska was more in character than the recent statement which Mr. Devoe issued announcing that he did not plan to seek reelection to a fourth term.

He spoke in a most feeling and perhaps in prophetic spirit of his long association with the affairs of the state university. There was an appealing modesty in that statement.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

It is only natural that the emergency operation performed on former President Harry Truman early Sunday brought his name back into the headlines. Quite unconsciously, it seemed to us, the incident inspired the editor of the Omaha World-Herald to contribute to news. In a brief editorial possibly in grudging spirit, the Herald, one of Mr. Truman's most caustic critics in America, spoke admiringly of the former President's physical courage.

Mr. Truman's courage never has been an issue—physical or otherwise, it has seemed to us that either foe or friend politically would recognize. The Herald recalls that when at attempt was made on Mr. Truman's life the former President shrugged it aside and despite the counsel and wishes of his secret service guards to be more careful went quietly about his way. And when late last Saturday it was decided that he must undergo an operation, the former President brushed aside a suggestion that he ride to the hospital in an ambulance. He didn't want that amount of fuss made over him. When he reached the hospital he declined a wheel chair trip to his room. Again he didn't want any fuss over him. There was the folksiness of Mr. Truman, a trait which the American people admired whether they agreed with him politically or were in violent disagreement. Few Presidents have had that folksy quality in greater measure than the former President. It is so deeply etched in him, so natural, so unassuming, so much a part of his character. And on one or two occasions this writer had the opportunity to observe another trait of character which we fear many Americans overlook. Mr. Truman is a kindly man, so completely homespun in neighborly spirit, so gentle and thoughtful and yet with a great capacity for anger.

Some Of Those Decisions

Time will of course accord him the proper rank in history. Time always has taken care of those matters adequately after a man filling the highest office in this land has been subjected to the fierce fires of controversy. It was this reference in the Herald to Mr. Truman's physical courage that caught our attention. Put this down some place where it will not be forgotten that any man who accepts the burden of the presidency knows full well before he takes his oath of office its tremendous, appalling physical and mental drain, and takes on those burdens understanding them fully.

We know of no American President from the days of George Washington on who did not come face to face with those hours of soul searching. There were hours for great decisions which only could be made by the lonely occupant of the White House, whoever he was or is. Mr. Truman had those hours of earnest, reverential soul-searching. The Herald seems to forget that in recent days the news columns have been filled in connection with the Oppenheimer case that it was Mr. Truman who made the final decision to go ahead full steam in the development of the hydrogen bomb. What an appalling decision was thrust upon the shoulders of a man, knowing as he must have known its potential for destruction of what the world calls its civilization! That takes something besides physical courage. It was Mr. Truman who came to the decision to recall Gen Douglas MacArthur. That, right or wrong, nevertheless took something besides physical courage. It was Mr. Truman who had to decide the issue in Korea, a decision that called for something more than physical courage. It was Mr. Truman who had to approve the Marshall Plan, no easy decision, and one involving more than physical courage. Step by step whether the reader agrees or disagrees with the Truman administration the burden of decision must be recognized. By contrast today we have seen in Indo-China the confusion of announced policy and in other fields it should be said without harshness that there has been a seeming timidity in arriving at decisions.

We happened to be with Mr. Truman at the exact hour Gen. Douglas MacArthur left his quarters at the Statler Hotel to ride through packed streets and cheering crowds to address Congress on Capitol Hill. I could hear that cheering and I am quite sure the former President could. It afforded me a rare opportunity to study the expression of a man's face. Sometimes I shall write about it.

Bright New Hope

The British claim to have developed a drug—they call it dilygeric acid diethylamide—which will send adult personalities scuttling back to childhood. A woman who was treated with it remained an eight-year-old for two weeks and said she actually had the sensation of shrinking physically into a little girl. High hopes are held for the drug in aiding in the diagnosis of mental complaints that might trace back to early life experiences.

Now that they have learned how to shrink minds, we hope they go one step further and take the body with it. That might be the answer to H-bombing. If there were an anti hole nearby, an entire neighborhood upon hearing the sirens could swig down some dilygeric acid diethylamide and descend into the commodious underground caverns and perfect safety. It would help at social events, too, just after one has done an embarrassing thing.

Power By Vengeance New Political Device

WASHINGTON — For some time a new technique of government operation has been taking place in Washington. It is a technique of revenge by investigation, of threat, retaliation, and political blackmail; a technique reminiscent of Hitler's day and hitherto almost unknown in government.

Those who have introduced and employed this technique are the junior senator from Wisconsin and the little group immediately around him. The technique has grown to such an extent that it has now almost become a pattern. It began when McCarthy raised money to defeat Sen. Tydings of Maryland after Tydings refused to concur in McCarthy's Communist charges against the State Department. And it continued through the campaign to defeat Sen. Benton in Connecticut, right down to the recent attempt to defeat Sen. Margaret Chase Smith in Maine.

The above cases are well known. But the cases which the public doesn't know so much about, when stacked up together, present an amazing record of intimidation illustrating the new Hitler technique. Here is part of the record:

When McCarthy learned that Struve Hensel, assistant secretary of defense, had written the Army memo dealing with Cohn-Schne, he sent two investigators, Don Surine, once fired by the FBI, and Jim Juliana, to New York to probe Mr. Hensel's business activities. And on March 25 at 9:30 p. m., a man called at the home of Mrs. William T. Craggan, 325 East 7th Street, Brooklyn, mother-in-law of Hensel's former business associate, Arthur L. Pierson. The man identified himself as a detective from police headquarters and asked to know where Mrs. Craggan's daughter, Mrs. Arthur L. Pierson, resided.

PHONY COP

Mrs. Craggan asked why he wanted to know and was told that her daughter had been in a hit-and-run accident, had left the scene of an accident, and the police were looking for her. Mrs. Craggan is a lady in her eighties, and naturally news that her daughter had hit-and-run agitated her greatly. She gave the alleged policeman her daughter's address in Vineland, N. J., but later that night was still weeping when her daughter happened to call and assured her that she had been in no hit-and-run accident, or in any accident of any kind.

Next day Surine and Juliana, McCarthy's two gumshoe men, located Hensel's partner, Pierson, in Vineland and admitted that his address was secured from his mother-in-law. However, there was no secret about Hensel's address and they could have obtained it through ordinary business channels.

McCarthy, who also secured a confidential copy of Hensel's income tax returns from his friend Commissioner T. Coleman Andrews, has now admitted that he had no case against Hensel but was following the "kick-'em-below-the-belt" technique once taught him by Indian Charlie back in Wisconsin.

COHN'S TECHNIQUES

McCarthy is not the only man who has used this technique. His counsel, Roy Cohn, used it on Senator Jackson of Washington when the senator showed up Cohn's friend, Private Schine, and his juvenile theory of psychological warfare. Cohn had been investigating Jackson's past and came to the Senate hearings with a file ostentatiously labeled "Jackson's record."

McCarthy also went after Time magazine following critical stories about him. First he accused Time of following the Communist line and wrote every advertiser asking that they cancel their advertising. When this failed to change Time's editorial policy, McCarthy who is chairman of the subcommittee on post office appropriations, proceeded to bulldoze Time in connection with its second-class mail privileges.

McCarthy secured from Postmaster General Summerfield figures on the cost of Time's mail subsidy and in a committee hearing proceeded to draw out the fact that Time had received about $17,000,000 through second-class mailing privileges. He claimed this was a profit at the expense of the taxpayers.

PROBES FELLOW SENATORS

Just how many fellow senators McCarthy has kept a record on is not known. It is known that he has been checking on Symington of Missouri, McLellan of Arkansas, and Hennings of Missouri. At one time when Hennings was serving on the subcommittee charged with probing McCarthy, McCarthy accused Hennings of employing Communists. Hennings asked that the FBI investigate his entire staff and disproved the charge.

What makes the McCarthy revenge technique particularly sinister is the fact that he operates in part with private money, yet he has the power of Senate subpoena and is able to obtain income tax returns. Thousands of dollars have been poured into McCarthy's hands by the Texas oil millionaires and others which, in effect, give him his own SS elite corps of private probers, financed by private funds, yet using the power and prestige of the U. S. government.

Here are some of the others who have incurred McCarthy's ire and felt the whiplash of his revenge technique: the Saturday Evening Post, which he accused of following the instructions of Gus Hall, Secretary of the Communist party; James Wechsler, editor of the New York Post, who was put on the McCarthy grid for two days of cross-examination. Wechsler had been critical of McCarthy and also of McCarthy's friend, Walter Winchell; the Christian Science Monitor was accused of following the line of the Communist Daily Worker; Russell Wiggins, editor of the Washington Post, was berated by McCarthy because he dared defend Wechsler; The St. Louis Post-Dispatch; cartoonist Herb Block; the Washington Post; the Portland Oregonian; the Madison, Wis., Capital Times; John Steele of the United Press. And just a few of those who have felt the sting of McCarthy's revenge technique merely because they dared to disagree.

WASHINGTON PIPELINE

Some of the big magazines which supported Ike so vigorously in 1952 are not at all happy about Summerfield's mail rate increase. Al Cole of the Reader's Digest, who handled the direct mail political campaign for Ike in 1952, complained to magazine publishers that the Greenbrier hotel in White Sulphur recently that the post office is running a smear campaign against magazine publishers. "We are being smeared," he said, "by our own administration."

DORIS FLESON

Maine Prefers Yankee Spirit To McCarthyism

WASHINGTON — The results of a senatorial primary campaign waged coincidentally with the McCarthy-Army hearings are in. It shows an unusually bad voter reaction against the recent show in the Senate caucus room.

Maine Republicans nominated Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, an avowed foe of McCarthy, by better than 5 to 1 over a McCarthy protegee, Robert L. Jones. Furthermore the turn-out was much greater than had been anticipated and it was all in her favor. The Smith-Jones results are a verdict on the hearings rather than on McCarthy personally. McCarthy encouraged Jones to run, then never entered the state personally. But he was there, week after week, during all the crucial period of the campaign, on the television screens in the homes, cafes and inns of Maine.

Nobody said much about him in the campaign—not even Sen. Smith, whose "declaration of conscience" against McCarthyism has been imprinted on the state's recollection for four years. Even Jones, who began by insisting the issue was "Americanism," which he equated with McCarthyism, quit mentioning him after the election. Whether Jones felt the hearings were "harmful" or whether he resented McCarthy's failure to come in and help him, was not disclosed.

Senator Smith resisted the strong temptation to complain about what she well recognized, not as a serious effort to defeat her but as a tormenting restate. She stuck to her knitting here in Washington and camped week-ends on the motto, "Don't trade a record for a promise." Only in the last few days did she chance it to "Don't trade a record for a smear."

Her confidence in Maine was gloriously justified. Included in the unexpectedly large turnout of voters were many women. The senator has always been a favorite of her own sex but this also serves to verify trends reported from other states.

A skilled and experienced politician, Mrs. Smith feared only apathy. She knows there is always an "anti" vote against an incumbent. In Maine she thought it might run to 20,000. Jones got 19,000.

She had no expectation of another 125,000 total vote like the one in 1948 when she defeated the then governor, a former governor and an unknown with 64,000 votes, nearly 5,000 more than all the others combined. Her calculations ran like this: "If I get 60,000 and Jones 20,000, I shall be satisfied but shall have some fear that the issue is little understood. If I get 80,000 and Jones 20,000, I shall be very happy, certain I have the state's confidence."

Mrs. Smith got 96,153 votes in nearly complete returns. It is a handsome tribute in any election, much more in an off-year one. Though the Democrats in Maine are picking up strength, she is now assured of re-election.

Mrs. Smith had the generous support of her colleague, Sen. Frederick Payne, and the House delegation from Maine. They spoke up instantly and strongly after Jones announced his candidacy.

Some of the other flowery tributes paid her after she won will only make her smile politely. She and her Maine organization won her race—not the Eisenhower administration nor its congressional leadership.

It is, of course, true that Margaret Smith walks down the road dictated by her New England conscience with that independent can men admire in men but can't seem to get used to in women politicians. (Copyright, 1954, by U. P. Syndicate, Inc.)

Robin Symphony

Diller, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The delightful short editorial which appeared in The Star Monday morning describing the actions of the mother robin as the young robins leave their nest moves me to relate something I observed yesterday afternoon. I was seated in the shade of our front porch reading, and due to the heat of the day our front door was open.

Presently our son came into the front room and began playing on the piano—"Rustles of Spring," by Christian Sinding. Four robins flew down from the trees and began walking back and forth on the walk and grass directly in front of the house. They gave an occasional half-hearted peck at the ground, but were obviously listening to the music. When he had finished the piece, they flew away.

Minority Rule

Fairbury, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I have been a regular reader of The Star and particularly the articles in "The People Speak" column. I want to congratulate Mrs. C. Farber of Lincoln in regard to the stand she is taking ("Where Are The Voters?").

Yes, where is the majority? Don't you think that the minority has governed the majority in the last few years? I believe it is time our state law-makers seriously begin thinking of doing something about it. I propose they should pass some kind of law to compel the voters to go to the polls and express their opinion. In this way we will have the majority, and democracy will rule.

Mr. Martin's Campaign

Riverton, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Following is a copy of a letter which I have sent to the Hon. David Martin, now a candidate for the U.S. Senate:

"I read your letter in last week's Lincoln Star, relative to the question of the influence of money in primary campaigns. I congratulate you on your good sense and patriotism expressed in your letter. You expressed a truth that is self-evident to every observer.

"Acknowledging that such is an unwholesome influence in American politics, it is obligatory upon every good citizen who loves his country to contrive to discover and advise a remedy. For the reason that money is not enjoyed by you in your campaign for the Senate, I observe that you opine you are greatly handicapped in the race. If it be true that your political finances are limited, and this, according to your own statements, prevents your nomination, I assert that you will not receive the nomination."

"Let me call your attention to the fact, Mr. Martin, that of all the parties which have ever existed in American politics, the party which you represent and of which you have been state chairman has been the most flaccid in the correct influence of money in campaigns. If life lives by the sword must perish by the sword."

"I call your attention to the fact that Sen. Butler, reputed to be a millionaire or near-millionaire, by reason of his great wealth could so very easily defeat the powerful and popular Republicans who stood high in the party—men like the powerful Val Peterson and the late lamented Grosvenor. War? Because he had the sinews of war for his support."

"You must know that your party has the best organization that money can buy—that it seems to control over 90 per cent of the newspapers of the nation, although half or more of all the voters of the nation are Democratic voters. Take away from the Republican party the use of money in their campaigns, and they would seldom if at all carry an election against the party which relies on principle and the good of the common people. I am glad indeed that you recognize the degrading influence of money in your party, and so invite you to join with a party whose appeal is to the common people on the basis of principle."

GEORGE J. MARSHALL
Hebron, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: It's not funny, says David Martin, former chairman of the Republican State Central Committee and now a candidate for nomination to the United States Senate, when he is asked by Congress men to be wealthy or get outside donations to pay his campaign expenses, it's tragic—

EDGAR A. GUEST —Poet Of The People—

EXPERIMENT
"That didn't work," the dreamer said.
"Another failure. That is true, but I would rather say instead This lesson learned: What not to do."

"There is a right way, hidden still.
I'll err again, beyond a doubt, But work and search for it I will, With faith that I can find it out."

tragic when a candidate must accept such donations knowing, if elected, the donor will expect favors from him.
As Mr. Martin well knows, when it comes to the general election, the Republican committee has plenty of money flowing into the state to pay campaign expenses of their favorite candidates. Money talks in political campaigns, and the more the committee has to spend, the greater the influence it has on the unsuspecting voters.

The following statement taken from the Congressional Record gives the amount of money spent by both national committees to elect members to the House and Senate in the 1952 campaign: The Republicans spent $4,080,989, and this does not include the millions spent for the President's campaign, figures for which are not available. The Democratic national committee spent $1,302,244 for the same purpose, not including that spent on behalf of Mr. Stevenson.

Where does this money come from? The Republicans funds come from the very wealthy and large corporations. The Democratic funds come mostly from small income groups.

The influence of money is reflected in the votes cast by members of Congress and the administration's national policy as never before. Big Business has taken over the affairs of government after 20 years of the most good for the greatest number.

Maintenance Need

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: There is an urgent need to protect our investment in improving the munny pool by placing about 300 feet of some suitable paving so that children can get there safely. The present area is an undesirable combination of cinders, dust, nails, glass, filth, and "hog wallow" mud that is not only dangerous and disgusting but leads to contamination of the pool water itself.

We are providing millions for the air base, for sewers, water, an auditorium, viaduct, highways and schools. It is the index of a growing community for it to do these things. But we must always maintain what we have in a civilized way. Then, when that is done, let us quickly add more pools to our outlying areas.

Property Tax Load

Hastings, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Hannah McNeerney of Tecumseh disagrees with this writer's appraisal of Bob Crosby's throwback of medical costs for the aged onto the backs of an overburdened property—owning class. She holds that in so doing, a bunch of "hypochondriacs" are weeded out. Considering that property owners must dig up in taxes one million dollars annually to weed them out, would it not seem that Bob Crosby is the fellow to be "weeded out"? Isn't it strange that despite these "hypochondriacs" on assistance rolls, the assistance fund has carried them along, as well as permitting three Republican governors to divert $4,250,000 out of that fund into the general fund of the state? And isn't it likewise strange that with 10,000 fewer in number of the aged on assistance rolls, the old fellows with dandruff in their hair have become a nightmare to Bob Crosby's political machine?

One of the wonders of the world is why, with the state assistance fund splitting at its seams with head tax, cigarette and liquor tax funds, that an additional property tax should be loaded onto the backs of the people to take care of the medical needs of the aged of this state! If the property owners of this state do not resent that kind of treatment at the hands of a governor, then there is nothing to the claim that property has been carrying too burdensome a load of taxation.

Driver Training Cost

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Gov. Crosby is to be congratulated for recently having appointed a state committee to help improve Nebraska's safety record. This committee will in all probability make recommendations relative to driver training in Nebraska high schools. May I suggest to the readers that encouragement be given to officials of the school in their individual towns to offer this opportunity. We are paying for driver education whether we have it or not. A study made this year at the Bradford Senior High School in Bradford, Pa., will shed some light on this.

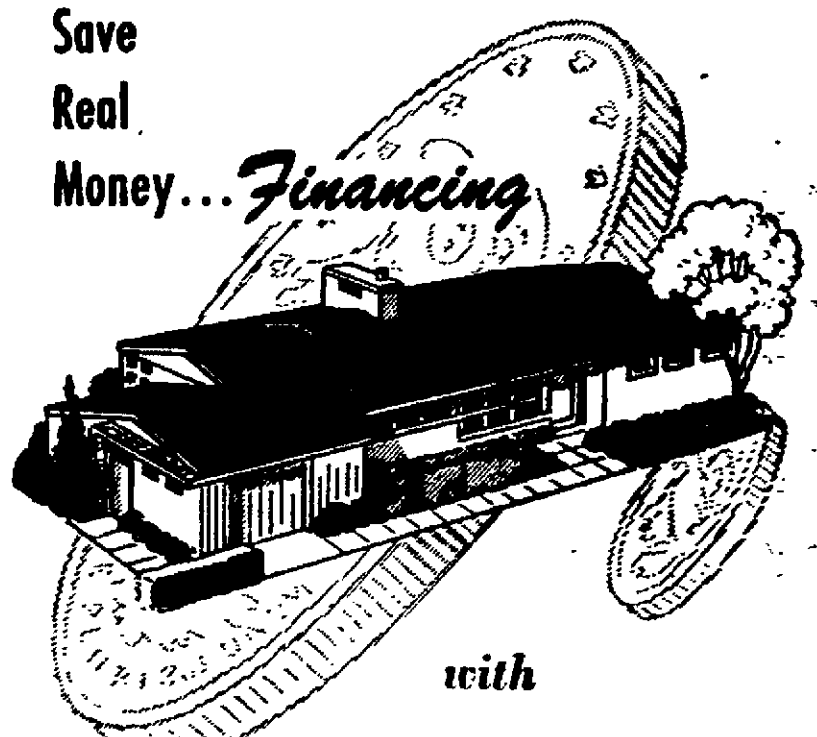

The study revealed that the community paid $67.73 per student for the privilege of not training high school drivers. The school, with an enrollment of 992 students, found that 389 already had licenses. Eighty-nine students had been involved in accidents costing $19,628—an average of $212 per accident. Only two of the 89 drivers involved in accidents were Driver Education graduates, despite the fact that the trained drivers represented 25 per cent of the total number of drivers with licenses. The trained drivers' proportionate share of this huge bill was $424. The untrained drivers cost the community $19,204. Since there was a total of 285 of them in school, the total per-pupil cost of not training them amounted to $67.73. The community could have trained every driver for less than half the price it paid in insurance settlements and damage claims.

The great indoor and outdoor sport of Germany is to sit in the cafes and load in the coffee and desert.

This starts early in the morning. There is a light snack of four-layer chocolate cake with whipped cream about 11. At noon you eat the lunch and top it off with almond cake and fresh strawberries with whipped cream.

German hotels are very correct, so.

Later in the day, I asked the waiter about it.

"If you give the money in an envelope, we never see it," he said.

"They keep it?"

"Sure," said the waiter.

"So," said Mr. Schwarzenstein when I told him this. "Then you must give only to people who served you. But the service must be correct. You must be satisfied, yes? You Americans tip too much. Tip less. Demand correct service. So."

The waiter brought around the bill. I tipped him about double what I should. But on the other hand he was very correct. I was satisfied, yes? So!

Woman Charged In Fatal Beating To Get Mental Hearing

A mental hearing for Mrs. Clara Clarkson, 61, charged with manslaughter in the fatal beating of her 70-year-old husband, has been set for Friday.

Herbert Ronin, who set preliminary hearing for July 3. The defendant appeared in court with only her son and daughter, who shortly thereafter filed a mental affidavit before Clerk of the District Court Claude Burcham.

Burcham set the hearing before the County Board of Mental Health for 10:30 a.m., Friday.

The manslaughter complaint, filed by Co. Atty. Frederick Wagener in County Court, alleges that Mrs. Clarkson, without malice and in a sudden quarrel, struck and wounded her husband, causing injuries resulting in his death.

day, in a Lincoln hospital. Mrs. Clarkson did not post a $5,000 appearance bond required by the County Court and is being held in the County Jail pending preliminary hearing.

Woman Is Given Year On Probation Violation

Ruth Taylor, 24, of 1423 P, was sentenced to one year in the Women's Reformatory at York by the Lancaster District Court after she pleaded nolo contem-ptere to a charge of probation violation.

Defendant had been placed on two years' probation in November, 1952, on a worthless check charge.

Time of the beating was fixed "before 10:30 a.m. last Saturday" by Wagener, who said Mr. Clarkson was not hospitalized until late Saturday evening and was in semi-consciousness until he died about 3:45 p.m., Monday.

Expansion Slated For West Area

SIDNEY, Neb. (AP) — Western Nebraska wheat farmers expect to save money through a new program for expanding grain storage facilities.

The expansion program has reached several stages in Cheyenne and Keith counties.

Directors of the farmer-owner Farmers Coop Grain Elevator at Sidney will present to stockholders Thursday a proposal to build a 250,000-bushel grain elevator.

At Gurley, also in Cheyenne County, western Nebraska's largest elevator, holding 350,000 bushels of grain, was dedicated last week.

Construction of 15 grain tanks by four Keith County elevators has nearly doubled that county's storage capacity in the last few months.

Warren Mettlen, manager of the Sidney co-operative elevator, said the proposed Cheyenne County structure would eliminate the cost of storing grain at terminals and would reduce operating costs incurred by small storage plants.

The new elevator, he said, would also retain the identity of Cheyenne County's fancy wheat, valued higher than run-of-the-mill grain.

If the new elevator is built, he said, storage earnings and handling charges for the first year would amount to $44,000. In succeeding years the same grain, if unmoved, would bring $35,000 to the elevator from fees and charges.

Mettlen said construction of new storage facilities is aided by the 20 per cent tax amortization granted by the government and the Department of Agriculture's assurance of partial storage for two to six years.

Humboldt Wooden Nickels Valuable

HUMBOLDT, Neb. (AP) — Inflation has convinced Humboldt merchants that wooden nickels are as valuable as the Jefferson heads minted by the government.

14-Year-Old Omaha Boy Found Dead; Another Youth Is Sought

OMAHA (AP) — Allan Karr Jr., 14, of Omaha was found dead on the front porch of his home, shot in the abdomen and police sought a boy seen fleeing the house after a noise was heard by neighbors.

Another boy running north, a large white dog trailing him, and she assumed it was Allan. Allan was graduated from the eighth grade at Monroe school this month. He was an only child. His mother died when he was an infant.

Detective Sgt. Hugh Ashburn and Maurice Barrett theorized that the two boys had been playing with guns and Allan may have been shot accidentally.

Allan was found by his father, Allan Sr., and a roomer Michael Sacco, when they returned from their jobs at Offutt Air Force Base.

Souvenir Rifle

The lad was kneeling on the floor, slumped against a corner of the davenport. A souvenir Japanese rifle lay under him and his father's .30 caliber deer hunting rifle was leaning, muzzle down, against an overstuffed chair. A slug lay on the davenport cushion under the boy. It had gone through him.

Lawrence Tomka, Stanton, charged with conversion of livestock which he had mortgaged to the United States, released on $1,000 bond.

Mrs. Mildred Grothusen, a next door neighbor said she saw Allan and another boy playing around a parked car behind his home during the morning. Later she heard a "kind of pop," she said. When she looked out she

Basin Power Negotiations Said Nearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Interior McKay announced Wednesday the Reclamation Bureau is ready to negotiate sales contracts, with preference customers in five states in the Missouri River basin, to cover an estimated 190,505 kilowatts of firm power to be available for delivery by 1958.

The five states — North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska and the western portions of Minnesota and Iowa — make up the eastern division of the Missouri River basin power marketing area.

Negotiations will be conducted by the bureau's regional directors at Denver and Billings, Mont.

Plans Discussed

The marketing plans were discussed with power customers by department officials at meetings at Sioux Falls, S.D., and Bismarck, N.D., in April.

McKay noted that previously the bureau had been authorized to negotiate sales contracts for government power in the other portions of the basin marketing area, based on scheduled production by 1958, from hydroelectric plants now under construction.

The bureau said the final allotment of additional power being offered for sale in the five states breaks down this way: North Dakota 24,365 kilowatts, South Dakota 54,545, Northern Minnesota 25,865, southern Minnesota 59,780, Iowa 9,050 and Nebraska 16,900.

It said the total firm federal power supply in 1958 in the area is estimated to be 531,000 kilowatts, of which about 340,500 kilowatts are committed, almost entirely to preference customers. Present commitments include 100,000 kilowatts to the Nebraska Public Power System under contracts announced recently.

First Wheat Is Harvested At Falls City

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP) — Richardson County farmers began harvesting this week what they hope will amount to a million-dollar wheat crop.

Grain generally was still too wet for storage, however. Two loads marketed in Falls City tested 56 pounds with 16 per cent moisture and 60 pounds with a little more than 15 per cent moisture.

John Stalder of Salem reported his wheat was averaging from 18 to 20 bushels an acre. The general harvest will probably begin next week.

OMAHA (AP) — More than 50 persons attending the two-day convention in Omaha of the Practical Nurse Association of Nebraska discussed proposed legislation to license practical nurses.

The association has recommended that all practical nurses have at least a high school education and pass a series of extension courses. Mrs. Ada S. Davenport of Lincoln, association president, said.

Mrs. Davenport, Mrs. Kathleen Henderson of Omaha, president of Division 2, and Mrs. Donna Holtz of Lincoln, association vice president, spoke during the morning session which opened the convention.

Boy Drowns In Farm Pond

MONOWI, Neb. (AP) — Leroy Stroh, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stroh of Monowi, Neb., drowned Wednesday while wading in a farm pond.

Leroy and a companion, Edward Bartlett of Omaha, who had been visiting an aunt, went for a hike and then decided to wade in the farm pond.

Leroy, who couldn't swim, apparently stepped into a deep hole. When he disappeared the Bartlett boy ran to a nearby farmer for help.

It was 2½ hours before the body was recovered by neighbors. Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

Headquarters for G-E ELECTRIC FANS

Patricia Loder, Bride Of Randall P. Ayer

MRS. RANDALL AYER

White delphinium and the soft pink of peonies and gladioli were arranged against a bank of greenery to create an attractive background for the wedding of Miss Patricia Loder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Merle Loder of Wilmette, and Randall Plasted Ayer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Ayer of Norwalk, Conn., which took place at 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening, June 23, at the Wilmette Methodist Church.

The Rev. Charles Monroe Crowe solemnized the service, and Mrs. Victoria McCleod, organist, played the wedding music. Mrs. McCleod also accompanied Robert Edwards who sang preceding the ceremony.

Pink was the tone chosen for the lace and sheer net frocks of the attendants including Miss Carol Myers, the maid of honor; Mrs. John Michael Lawlor of Lincoln, the matron of honor and the four some of bridesmaids—Miss Ting Lilly and Miss Jo Jen Loder, Lincoln; Miss Ann Griffin, Omaha, and Miss Marilyn Rosenberger. The lace of the fitted, brief-sleeved bodices extended tunic-fashion over the front of the bouffant net skirts which had a cascade of ruffles as a back detail. Each carried a spreading lace fan ornamented with feathered carnations, the wine shade for Miss Myers and Mrs. Lawlor, and the pink blossoms for the maids. Frocked identically to the other attendants was the junior bridesmaid, Miss Cheryl Linscott of Long Beach, Calif. Susan Linscott, also of Long Beach, was the flower girl.

Robert G. Volz of Lincoln served Mr. Ayer as best man, and the corps of ushers included Gates Minnick, Ted Butterfield, John Michael Law-

Jor, Allen Anderson, and Richard Wieland, all of Lincoln.

The bridal gown of tulle, frosted with Chantilly lace, was worn over blush-pink satin and designed with a portrait neckline curved with the lace that delicately patterned the bodice and fashioned the brief wing sleeves. The lace was repeated on the bouffant skirt which was completed with a chapel train. Her veil of imported illusion was held to the head with a coronet of iridescent leaves, and she carried an arm bouquet of pale pink stephanotis and sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Ayer is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. Mr. Ayer attended Westminster College and is a graduate of the University of Nebraska. He is a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity, Phi Beta Kappa, and Sigma Xi.

Miss Jo Ann Parrott whose marriage to Buddy Clow will be an event of Saturday, July 3, at Bethany Christian Church, announces the members of her wedding party this morning.

Mrs. John Weber will be the matron of honor and the bridesmatron will be Mrs. James Carey. Miss Mary June Keller will light the candles.

William Galbraith will be best man for Mr. Clow and the usher is Delbert Parrott, brother of the prospective bride.

Miss Jeanne Benner, whose marriage to Glen Dare of Hallem will be solemnized at 8 o'clock, Saturday, June 26 at Zion Congregational Church, has chosen her sister, Mrs.

NEVER A dawn goes by these days without news of guests or travelers—it is summer, officially—the time of vacations—the time of relaxation—the time of barbecues—picnics—and mosquito lotions—and it's the time for fun, generally speaking.

We also find that morning entertaining is a bit more popular in the summer than during the cooler seasons, but the slight edge may be due to the fact that there are more summer guests than any other variety—the holiday category excepted.

AND ALL of that brings to mind the new names on our guests list—Mrs. K. B. Holm and her three children, Karen, Christine and Richard, who have arrived from Omaha to spend a week as the guests of Mrs. Holm's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Van L. Taylor.

On Wednesday morning Mrs. Taylor complimented her daughter when she entertained at a coffee at her home. The guests included Alpha Chi Omega sisters of Mrs. Holm, who is the former Polly Taylor, and attending the party from out of town was Mrs. C. R. Harberson of Rodondo Beach, Calif., the former Joan Dinsmore, who is spending several weeks as the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Dinsmore.

DURING our verbal meandering this morning we found that Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hubbell and their three sons, Tom, George and Fred, came from Webster Grove, Mo.,

Luncheon

Mrs. Willard Noxen will entertain the members of her birthday club on Thursday at a dessert luncheon to be held at her home. The club will honor Mrs. J. C. Peters on her birthday anniversary and will present her with a gift.

Following the luncheon, the afternoon hours will be spent with cards.

WCTU Meets

The members of the Grace Methodist W.C.T.U. will meet at 2 o'clock on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Emery Blue. The Rev. Luther Tigner will conduct the devotionals, and the program will include a short skit by Nancy and Laura Riggins, and a vocal solo by Patty Lint.

last week-end to be the Saturday-to-Wednesday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Seward. When Mr. and Mrs. Hubbell and their sons returned to their home yesterday they were accompanied by their niece and cousin, Corky Seward who not only will spend some time in Webster Grove, but also will go with the Hubbells to Kentucky on a camping trip. The young Miss Seward will return to Lincoln in about 10 days.

JUST heard that the Lincoln Artist Guild has something up its sleeve for next Sunday afternoon—an idea it has borrowed from some of the art colonies at home and abroad—a sidewalk fair. We hasten to add, however, that this is not strictly a sidewalk affair, but will be in the open air out on Miracle Mile—and if you are wondering, as did we, where Miracle Mile might be—it's on wide and trim 48th Street—the 800 block south. To be specific, You can't miss it, however, for paintings will be hung on the trees, the fences and all available spots. The artists are planning to bring all of the work they have on hand and hope to have an admiring public.

AND we know for sure that art was the topic of the conversation at a luncheon in Omaha on Tuesday when the group included Mrs. E. J. Faulkner, president of the Nebraska Art Association, and board members Mrs. John H. Ames, Marvin Robinson—Norman Geske, director of the department of art at the University of Nebraska, and Eugene Kingman who directs the art activities at Joslyn Memorial in Omaha.

BACK home again after a week-end in Colorado Springs where they attended the national Jaycees convention are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth McCaw, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thone, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Kratz, Mr. and Mrs. Orval Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Vestecka, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Cole.

SOMEONE told us that John Chapman left Sunday to spend six weeks at Trail's End Ranch camp at Glen Haven, Colo.

AND WE HEARD that Mr. and Mrs. Fred Eiche and their daughter, Jill, have plans for a nice Fourth of July week-end—The trio of Eiches, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. William Burke, will go to the Eiche summer home at Pelican Lake for the long holiday.

WE also learned that Mr. and Mrs. Jack Martin and their sons, Joe, the twins—David and Stephen—and daughter Sally, will be leaving Friday for Cass Lake and the Martins' recently purchased summer home there. Mrs. Martin and the children plan to spend the remainder of the summer at the lake, but Mr. Martin will join the ranks of the Lincoln-Minnesota commuters.

UNDERSTAND that the

Picnic Planned

Plans have been completed for the Nance County-Lincoln picnic which is to be held on Sunday, June 27, at the Peter Pan Park shelter house, 33rd and W.

The affair, in charge of a committee of which Ed Hollister is chairman, will begin at 4 o'clock, with a buffet supper served at 5:30 o'clock. Each family is requested to bring its own table service, sandwiches for the family, a covered dish and a dessert.

Hillcrest

The ladies' bridge day at Hillcrest club will be held on Thursday this week with Mrs. M. J. Stefanisin serving as hostess.

For the remainder of the season the ladies' bridge activities at Hillcrest will be held on Tuesdays.

Wedding Announced

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Alma Jensen of Grand Island, daughter of the late Mrs. Chris Mickelsen, to George F. Fritz of Milwaukee, Wis., on Saturday afternoon, June 19, at Grace Methodist Church. The 2:30 o'clock service was solemnized by the Rev. Harold C. Sandall in the presence of a small group of friends.

Mrs. Edward M. Cole, wearing an afternoon frock of blue linen with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations, attended Miss Jensen as matron of honor, and serving as best man was Mr. Cole.

The bride wore for her wedding a beige linen ensemble with matching accessories. Her shoulder corsage was fashioned of yellow rosebuds.

Following a wedding dinner, the couple left for Milwaukee, Wis., and eastern points. They will make their home at Grand Island.

Coming from out of town for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Watson of Omaha.

Gamma Phi Beta national convention, to be held at Mackinac Island, Lake Michigan, from July 1, to July 7, will find quite a representation from the Nebraska chapter of the sorority. Mrs. Gerald Merritt will be on hand as a delegate from the Lincoln Alumnae club, and also attending will be Miss Sally McGlasson and Miss Jane Mapes, both of the active chapter.

Miss Jean Steffen of Norfolk, president of the active chapter; Miss Jackie Switzer of Omaha, and Miss Sharon Mangold of Bennington, are among other members of the active group who plan to attend the convention.

We Hear That

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Sharrick and their two granddaughters, DeeAnn and Kiki Dunning, returned on Tuesday evening from Hopston, Tex., where Mr. and Mrs. Sharrick attended the convention of the Optimist Club, and where the small Misses Dunning were the guests of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Bernbaum.

On Friday Mr. and Mrs. Sharrick, accompanied by Mrs. Sharrick's sister, Mrs. B. C. Hall who arrived on Monday from Alameda, Calif., will leave for Kansas City for a family reunion honoring the 85th birthday anniversary of Mrs. Sharrick's mother, Mrs. L. J. Jones, which is to be celebrated on Sunday.

Leaving Thursday morning to spend several months in Mexico will be Dr. Virgil Logan and his wife, Dr. Lillian Logan, who plan to continue their research study on training for pre-school children. They will study with Mexican educators.

Representing the Soroptimist Club of Lincoln at the national organization's biennial convention at Banff Springs, Alberta, Canada, will be Mrs. C. M. Stewart, president, and Mrs. Forest Wilson, vice president. Mrs. Wilson will leave by car on Tuesday, and Mrs. Stewart will board a plane Friday for the trip to Canada.

Arriving Sunday for a two-weeks visit in Lincoln was Mrs. Kay Sawden of Los Angeles, Calif., who is the houseguest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sawden, and their children, Nancy, Bobby and Mike. The visitor is a former resident of Lincoln.

Karen Benner of Hebron, the bride's niece, is the flower girl and Benner Hammond, the bride-elect's nephew from Wausau, Wis., will be ringbearer.

Hall Says Ike 'Absolutely' Will Be Candidate For Re-Election

GOP Chief Says U.S. Must Vote For Ike Achievements

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—The Republican National Committee chairman said Wednesday President Eisenhower "absolutely" would be a candidate for re-election in 1956.

Leonard W. Hall, asked at a press conference if President Eisenhower would be a candidate for re-election, answered, "Absolutely. I think the demand will be such that he will be."

Hall also said he did not know now of any Republican candidates for the Senate and House in any state who have invited Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) to do any campaign speaking in their behalf.

He said individual candidates will decide for themselves whether they want campaign help from McCarthy. Hall did cite that Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.) and Sen. Dworshak (R-Idaho) have said they didn't think McCarthy visits would help their election chances.

'Bungling'

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—Leonard W. Hall, Republican national chairman, asserted Wednesday night the American people in November must choose between the "solid achievements" of the Eisenhower administration or a return to "the road of bankruptcy, bungling and appeasement."

"The election of a Democrat Congress in November would bring about a revival of all the policies pursued by the Truman administration — policies which failed America," Hall said.

In a speech before New Mexico Republicans at an annual Lincoln Day dinner, Hall said:

"In November, the people must decide whether they wish to stick with the jobs of restoring our country to solvency, of keeping our economic and moral integrity, of making the United States a bulwark against Communism, or whether they want to turn back down the road to bankruptcy, bungling and appeasement."

Listing the "achievements of the Eisenhower administration," Hall pointed to the end of the Korean War, the cut in income taxes and the check in "the drastic two-year decline in farm prices."

'Bold Steps'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican National Committee said the Eisenhower administration has "taken bold steps to halt global Communism" and has "cleared house and instituted its own forthright program."

It also asserted the administration has "achieved remarkable success in rooting out subversives and eliminating potential security risks."

The arguments were made in a 3,000 word "basic campaign document" which outlined what the committee called the 1954 campaign "line" of the Truman Stevenson wing of the Democratic Party and the Republican Party and the Republican "factual" replies to nine main "charges."

The four-page pamphlet is being distributed to party workers as a campaign document which the committee said "answers the distortions and untruths already being uttered in the 1954 campaign."

Each charge is headed "They Say" and the Republicans then reply with what they call "The Facts." The document doesn't specify who makes the Democratic charges, but attributes them to recent speeches by Democratic leaders.

Deshler Man Fined For Livestock Sale

A Deshler man, Verne F. Kuhlman, has been fined in Federal Court and enjoined from selling livestock until his suspended dealer's registration is restored.

Kuhlman was ordered to pay a $340 penalty by Federal Judge John Delehant for selling livestock without registration under the Livestock Dealers and Packers Act.

In civil action, it was alleged that Kuhlman committed 15 violations between January and June, 1953. His license was suspended Jan. 5, 1953, following a U.S. Department of Agriculture judicial hearing.

Pen Medical Board May Hold Sanity Hearing For DeYonghe

Warrant for commitment for Joseph E. DeYonghe, 21, in the Lincoln State Hospital as ordered by the Lancaster County Board of Mental Health, is expected to be served on Warden H. H. Hann of the State Penitentiary Thursday.

DeYonghe, a Penitentiary inmate, has been charged with first degree murder in connection with the slaying of John Clausen, Penitentiary guard on April 16. The charges were filed who also signed the affidavit for by Co. Atty. Frederick Wagener the mental hearing.

Conference First

Warden Hann said that when the warrant is received, he will confer with Dr. B. A. Finkle, prison physician, for his recommendation as to whether the governor should be asked to summon the Penitentiary Medical Board to give a sanity hearing to DeYonghe.

Attorney General C. S. Beck explained that inmates of the Penitentiary can only be committed to the mental hospital on order of the Penitentiary Medical Board. When their sanity is questioned by the prison physician and warden, the warden asks the governor to convene the board.

Warden Hann said that because of the finding he understood the Lancaster County

Three Members

The three members of the Penitentiary Medical Board are: Dr. B. A. Finkle, prison physician; Dr. F. S. Spradling, superintendent of the Lincoln State Hospital; and Dr. E. A. Rogers, state director of health.

Because all are state employees and living in Lincoln, Warden Hann said they usually can be assembled with a day's notice.

Attorney General Beck explained that because inmates of the Penitentiary are given into the custody of the warden by District Court orders, they cannot be removed by an inferior body such as a county mental health board, but only through channels specifically provided by statutes.

NEW YORK (AP)—Funeral services for Don Hollenbeck, CBS television news commentator who committed suicide by gas in his apartment, will be held Friday noon in the chapel of the Campbell funeral home.

Dr. John Bell, of the Church of the Incarnation, will conduct the services. Burial will be private.

John Gude, the 49-year-old broadcaster's agent, said Hollenbeck had been suffering severely from stomach ulcers and had been in a hospital twice in the past four months.

Anselmo Reports First Polio Case

ANSELMO, Neb. (AP)—Anselmo, Neb., a small town 18 miles northwest of Broken Bow, has reported its first polio case of 1954.

Dr. C. D. Spivey said Wayne McGowan, 9, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McGowan Jr., of Anselmo, has been in St. Francis Hospital in Grand Island several days with spinal polio.

He said the boy is "pretty well paralyzed in his right arm and his left arm is partly paralyzed." The boy has been receiving oxygen but is not in an iron lung.

Although Anselmo is not far from Ansley where community-wide gamma globulin inoculations are being given, Dr. Spivey said such a program is not contemplated in Anselmo at present.

"One case doesn't mean an epidemic," he said.

Holloway Filing As Demo For Sheriff Is Rejected

Myles Holloway's filing for the office of county sheriff on the Democratic ticket has been rejected by Election Commissioner Harold Gillett.

When contacted, Holloway said he "kind of expected it." He said he didn't envision taking the matter to court "because of the costs," and might try to get on the ballot in the general election by petition.

He added that "I'll be in there fighting."

Holloway later stated that he was withdrawing his application filing for sheriff on the Democratic ticket in order to clear the air of the whole matter.

No Affidavit

The ruling, handed down Wednesday afternoon, held that Holloway had not, in accordance with the law, filed an affidavit with the election commission stating he was changing party affiliation when filing for the sheriff's race.

The objection was filed by Gerald Farrell of 5628 Hartley who protested on the grounds of an "interested Democratic voter."

In his objection, he had stated that Holloway up through the primary election in 1952 had declared himself as a Republican and had not changed affiliation.

Holloway had stated at a hearing last Monday that he had supported Walter Raecke, unsuccessful Democratic candidate for governor in 1952, and that he was not a Democrat himself.

Gillett held that the support of one Democratic candidate for governor "is not sufficient to show that the individual has generally supported the candidates of a particular party." He continued that "such being the case, Myles Holloway could not properly file as a candidate for nomination in the Democratic primary without having first filed the necessary declaration of intention to change his party affiliation as required by law."

Gillett said the rejection might rule out Holloway's return filing as a Republican should he want to do so. His only recourse, Gillett said, is to file an action to appeal the ruling with District Court.

The point of law on which Farrell based his objection to Holloway's filing was that the contender for the sheriff's office had not posted with the election commissioner notice, 90 days prior to his filing, that he had changed party affiliation.

Holloway, who had been known as a Republican, ran on that ticket in 1942, 1946 and 1950 for the sheriff's office. He was beaten in 1950, after two successful campaigns, by the present

3 Die In Asphalt Tank Explosion

ROCKWOOD, Tenn. (AP)—A city-owned tank of asphalt exploded Wednesday, killing three workmen.

Ralph Richie, 45, of Bakewell, Tenn., and Warren Johnson, 54, of Signal Mountain, Tenn., were killed when they were hurled 100 feet from the top of the tank of road oil.

Jack Hickman, 34, of Chattanooga, died later in a hospital.

A witness, Freeman Denny, said Hickman was standing on a steel ladder, being welded, and was thrown about 35 feet by the blast.

All were employees of Chattanooga Boiler and Tank Co., installing two one-million-gallon steel tank water reservoirs for the city. The asphalt tank was part of city street maintenance equipment at the scene, city recorder Alvin Nelson said.

Nelson said he was unable to explain the explosion, but "apparently there was some form of gas in the tank and the heat from a welding torch ignited it."

GI'S WON'T GO OVERSEAS ALONE

... Days Of The Old 'Repple Depple' Are Numbered

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army, giving the lonely GI a break, is planning to send him overseas as part of a unit with which he has trained instead of as an individual drawn from a replacement pool.

The plan, still in course of development, will begin operating next year. It will be substituted for an overseas replacement program which has been used since the start of the Korean War.

Probably starting at the platoon level (about 80 men), it is to be expanded until battalions (880 men) and regiments (3,600 men) move overseas as units.

Improve Morale

The purpose is two-fold: To increase overall combat efficiency; and to improve morale by expanding the "buddy" system instead of assigning a lonely soldier to work with total strangers.

The program will utilize men who train together from basic schools on. It will not involve, said a spokesman, the tapping of existing, organized outfits of the country's strategic reserve, such as the 82nd Airborne Division, for platoons, battalions or regiments to replace outfits completing overseas duty in Korea or Europe.

The replacement program was contained in an Army announcement on steps being taken to improve career service in the Army.

Under the new replacement plan, men whose overseas duty tours are completed would be assembled into a battalion and returned to this country. Replacing it overseas would be a battalion which has trained together from the start. The battalion would be an entity, with its own officers and non-coms. It would move overseas and take over the assignment, designation and organization of the outfit it replaces.

The old "repple depple" (replacement depot) system of World War II and Korea was a headache for all concerned, especially for the individual GI. He was put into one of these replacement pools and held there until a call for replacements came from an outfit at the front. Then he took his personal equipment and went to the new outfit—to find no one he had ever seen, to work with strange GI's and officers under specialized tactical conditions with which he might be unfamiliar.

WORLD OF THE FUTURE? . . .

Cheaper Atomic Power Foreseen

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Reporter

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Two Atomic Energy Commission scientists announced Wednesday they had made a "preliminary design" of a new type of atomic power reactor which they believe would offer cheaper power than any other proposed reactor—and also cheaper than power from conventional methods like coal-fired systems.

They said that if the AEC should give the go-ahead signal on constructing an experimental reactor to prove out the present concepts, it might be possible for industry to begin building full scale reactors of the new type in "four to seven years as an optimistic estimate."

'Breed' Its Own Fuel

The proposed new power plant, said Dr. Clark Williams and Francis T. Miles of AEC's Brookhaven, N. Y. national laboratory, would be designed to generate electric power, "breed" new fuel for itself, and deliver by-product to waste tanks—all in continuous processes. It would employ uranium fuel mixed with a liquid metal—as distinguished from using a solid fuel.

They reported their work to an international congress on nuclear engineering at the University of Michigan sponsored by a division of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers and they gave further information in an interview.

They said preliminary experiments, including actual testing of some of the proposed components under reactor conditions, made them confident that a full-scale reactor of their design would furnish electric power at between four and six mills per kilowatt hour, compared with an average of about five mills for the United States under conventional power methods such as coal.

Power More Cheaply

The scientists said they also are confident that a full-scale reactor of their design would furnish power more cheaply than any other proposed atomic reactor—including the so-called "pressurized water reactor" (PWR) for which the AEC already has approved construction. The latter reactor will be built near Pittsburgh, Pa., and will furnish power into the system of the Duquesne Power Co.

Asserting that in any power system, efficiency increases with increases in temperature, the scientists told a reporter they were confident a reactor of their design would be capable of operating at higher temperatures than the PWR.

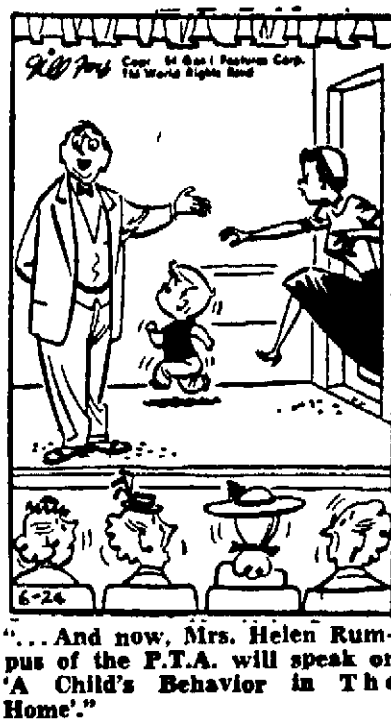

They said their type would have certain other advantages over the PWR, including the fact that in their type, they said, the fuel would be pumped continuously through the reactor, and therefore replenishment would not require having to place something inside the reactor.

They said their type would utilize Uranium 233, made from thorium with the initial help of another fissionable material. The thorium would be arranged in a blanket around the reactor core—and as fuel was consumed, more would be "bred" to take its place.

Waverly Businessmen Seek Damages From Lincoln; Claim Water Line Construction Blocks Trade Traffic

A hearing in County Court will be held Friday morning on a damage claim filed against the city of Lincoln by seven Waverly businessmen and the village of Waverly as a result of Lincoln's construction of a water supply line through Waverly.

The center of controversy is a five-block strip of state highway right-of-way along the south side of the highway through Waverly. The city's new 48-inch water transmission line from Ashland to Lincoln is being laid in this right-of-way, between the existing highway and private property to the south.

Businessmen along the strip claim the city has shut off ingress and egress from their businesses and has created a maintenance problem on both the private ground and the highway right-of-way. Plaintiffs ask in the suit that the court determine the amount of damages suffered as a result of the city's work.

Deputy City Attorney Jack Pace stated that the water line constructed through that area started last Thursday and should be completed by this Friday.

Pace added, however, that only short areas at a time have been dug up along the right-of-way and that entrances to the businesses have always been maintained.

Also, Pace said, the method of backfilling the holes dug for the line will make the ground even harder and in better condition than it was previously. No private property has been disturbed with the work, Pace said.

Harry Schmidt, implement company owner on the south side of the highway, stated that the businessmen and the village of Waverly were as much upset over the manner in which Lincoln started the job as anything else.

"They just moved right in," Schmidt said, "without asking us a thing about it or saying anything to us. If they had discussed this work with us first, a lot of disagreements might have been avoided."

Irrigation Measure Is Sent To Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House passed and sent to the Senate a bill for construction of the Ainsworth, Lavaca Flats, O'Neill and Mirage Flats extension irrigation developments in Nebraska.

Construction would not begin until the state and Congress have approved a report to be made on physical and economic feasibility of the projects, which would be integrated physically and financially with other federal Missouri River basin works.

Rails Rap Tax Value Formula

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

Nebraska railroads, at an informal hearing with the State Board of Equalization, Wednesday expressed opposition to the formula the board proposes to use to fix their value for tax purposes.

The proposed formula is similar to the one used last year which rated capitalization of the net income at 20 per cent, value of stocks and bonds the same per cent and the physical valuation, sometimes termed the "historical value" at 40 per cent.

This year the board proposes to rate each factor as one-third of the actual value. Railroads have always opposed use of the "historical value" factor.

Jay Weingarten, attorney for the Burlington line, told the board the company's car loadings and gross revenue have declined the first five months this year and that they have greatly reduced maintenance and the number of employees to maintain net income to a profitable position.

He argued that protests made last year have been borne out by facts that the railroads are paying more than a just proportion of state taxes. He cited sales figures of the tax commissioner and the Department of Agriculture which he says are comparable to their own research showing that real estate is only taxed at 35 per cent of actual sales value.

He also pointed out that the valuation on motor vehicles has shown a drop of $100,000,000. He urged that consideration be given to the "obsolescence" of railroad equipment. In this connection he said there is unfairness between various railroads of the state.

Policies Sketched

Weingarten said obsolescence has been given consideration in the cases of the Rock Island and Northwestern railroads in their reorganization on instructions of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

George Holdrege, attorney for the Union Pacific, briefly sketched the changing policies of the board over the past 25 years by which new factors have been introduced in fixing valuations. He said this "process of attrition by new factors" has always been a method of increasing valuations over the previous year.

Holdrege also opposed the physical valuation factor and pointed out that it includes public improvements made by the company. He pointed out that nearly a million dollars was spent for an underpass at Grand Island which did not aid the company but on which they are now being taxed.

Attorneys for the smaller roads insisted that no formula could meet conditions of all railroads. All agreed that branch lines in general are a liability rather than an asset and should not be taxed.

Craig-Oakland New Paving To Be Dedicated

PART OF 73W IMPROVEMENT

Dedication of the new stretch of paving between Craig and Oakland, Neb., will take place at 4 p.m. Friday, with Gov. Robert Crosby and State Engineer L. N. Rens taking part.

The paving is part of an overall improvement of Highway 73W between Tekamah and Oakland. Construction was undertaken at a cost of $1,095,000 and provides "a needed traffic service" for Northeast Nebraska, Rens said.

One of the safety features engineered into the highway, Rens said, is the intersection of Highways 73W and 77 where through controlled traffic flow, stopping lanes and better sight distances, the need for "driver decision" has been lessened and the possibility of an accident "sharply reduced."

Gering Flood Work Okayed By Gen. Potter

OMAHA (AP)—Work to minimize flash flood damages and relieve irrigation drainage problems in the Gering valley has received the approval of Brig. Gen. W. E. Potter, Missouri River Division Army Engineers chief here.

Gen. Potter did not give approval, however, to proposals for work in the Mitchell valley, also in western Nebraska. Gen. Potter said studies in the Mitchell watershed indicated only minor control measures there would get local approval and these could be undertaken by local interests at their own expense.

Four Reservoirs
The Gering valley project would consist of four small detention reservoirs in the upper portion of the valley, grade stabilization structures in the Gering drain which services the irrigation system, construction of a new chute structure to supplement the existing ostenburg chute and enlargement of the lower drain, together with adjacent low levees.

The recommended improvements would prevent damages in the valley from floods of moderate intensity and reduce damages materially in floods of maximum proportions.

The estimated cost of the recommended project is $1,104,500, of which $48,500 would be borne by local interests in supplementary work.

Report Forwarded
The report and recommendations have been forwarded to the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors, which will review the plan. Persons desiring to present statements of facts concerning the proposed improvement may be heard by the board either orally or in writing.

If the board approves, the plan will go to Congress for inclusion on an authorization bill.

Flash floods have been causing $50,000 to $100,000 damage to irrigation works on the south side of the Platte River each year, tearing into canals and drains.

McDougald Shakes Slump To Spark Champs' 9-4 Victory Over Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—Gil McDougald, fighting a desperate, season-long slump, collected three doubles and a single and knocked in four runs to lead the New York Yankees to a vital 9-4 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

Batting only .215 before game time, McDougald doubled home two runs to tie the score 3-3 in the fifth inning. He doubled home two more in the sixth as the Yankees took the game away with a four-run rally.

McDougald's sudden 4-for-4 slugging kept the World Champions five games behind the league-leading Cleveland Indians, who continued their torrid pace with a 5-2 victory over Philadelphia.

The game dragged through 2 hours and 55 minutes with 32 players seeing action.

Nats Lose 5th In Row To Pale Hose

CHICAGO (AP)—The second-place Chicago White Sox broke Bob Porterfield's string of 12 straight complete games in scoring a fifth successive victory over the Washington Senators, 8-6, on Sherm Lollar's two-run pinch single in the sixth.

Although Porterfield was chased in a five-run Sox first, the Senators tied it at 6-6 in the fifth on Tom Umpf's two-run triple, and it was Lollar's timely blow with the bases loaded that turned the trick.

Andy Bears Down To Stop Bruins' Threat In Ninth; Two Tilts Tonight

By NORRIS ANDERSON
Sports Editor, The Star

Those prodigal sons of old Sherman Field, the wayward Lincoln Chiefs, cast their recent losing misdeeds on the mercy of a homecoming jury of 1,295 at Sherman Field Wednesday night.

A ruling of "all is forgiven" was given as Col. Anderson P. Bush, rumored in some quarters to be nursing a sore arm, hurled the Chiefs to an electrifying 3-2 victory over the powerhouse Des Moines Bruins.

Veteran Sherman Field disciples were probing their memories for a pitching performance that showed more raw courage after the gritty Kentucky colonel became the first Western League moundsman to notch 12 triumphs.

A real breath-taker — that's what it was!

Here was Des Moines, a team with high-voltage plate artillery, loading up the bases with no outs in the ninth. As the third runner, Pitcher Don Elston, reached first on a sacrifice, you could have sold Lincoln's chances for a penny farthing.

Those dealers in cold reality failed to reckon with the fighting heart that bats in Col. Bush.

Playing it to the hilt, Andy bore down and fanned dangerous Burdy Thurlby, the first hurdle. Two to go.

Eddie Winceniak, the next obstacle, was induced by Bush into flying to Centerfielder Bill (The Kid) Smith—just shall we enough to hold the runner on third. One to go. You could almost hear the honest sweat dropping off Andy's moist brow.

At the platter stood young McDaniel, a wildswinging journeyman who bats third for good reason in the Bruin order. Andy sized McDaniel up like he (McDaniel) was one of those jack-rabbits he (Bush) likes to hunt.

Swish. Swish. Swish. The violent and futile arc of McDaniel's swings cast a pleasant breeze on a breathless jury.

McDaniel's lusty swing for strike three signaled a crowd outburst that almost blew Col. Bush off the mound. The smoke from Andy's fastball still hung dimly about the befuddled McDaniel.

Heartened by that opening salvo, which plunged the Bruins into third place, Manager Whitey Wietelmann will throw Norm Brown (6-9) or Vance Carlson (3-2) and Roger Wright (5-5) into a doubleheader tonight at 6:30. Boss Les Peden of the Bruins will counter with a brace of righthanders, Bob Hartig (3-6) and Joe Kunkel (3-2) of Prague, Neb.

The Chiefs now rest a half game out of fourth place, a little shortcoming that could be remedied by a double win tonight.

Demos Outhit GOP, Win 2-1

By HERB ALTSCHULL

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Rep. Don Fireball Wheeler of Georgia pitched a 2-1 no-hitter to give the Democrats their seventh straight victory over the Republicans in the annual congressional "World Series."

But the Democrats had to rally for two runs after two men were out in the last inning, the fifth, and no one was on base.

GOP pitcher Glenn Davis of Wisconsin appear to have broken the jinx when the Democrats unloaded their heavy artillery. Rep. Harlan Hagen of California drew a walk and Rep. Alfred Sienkiewicz of New Jersey socked a double for one run.

Then Rep. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota unloaded what is probably the longest hit ball in the series, a 350-foot line drive into the left field corner that went for a triple.

Sectional qualifying rounds for the National Junior Amateur Golf Championship will be held at the Happy Hollow Club in Omaha July 16.

The seventh annual finals will be played at Los Angeles Aug. 4-7.

Registration for sectional play must be completed by July 6. Entries are to be mailed to the United States Golf Association in New York City.

Dobie, a television hero who devotes his extra time to helping child polio victims, was himself bedded by the disease for eight years during his childhood.

Ronnie Eichson, another television name, meets Omaha's Joe Dusek in the semi-windup. Ex-Husker Mike Dillase goes against Larry Hamilton, The Missouri Wildcat, in the opener at 8:30.

Haddix Wins 12th, Beats Pirates 7-1

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Southpaw Harvey Haddix allowed the Pittsburgh Pirates five hits in hurling the St. Louis Cardinals to a 7-1 triumph over the National League's cellar dwellers. The victory, his 10th in a row, gave him a 12-3 record for the season—the best of any pitcher in the majors. He had hurled three consecutive shutouts and 37 scoreless innings until the Pirates scored on him in the sixth.

Mass Inoculation Continues At Ansley

First Community-Wide Program

ANSLEY, Neb. (AP)—Ansley residents continued to stream into the office of Dr. Clyde W. Wilcox Wednesday for gamma globulin shots in the first community-wide inoculation against polio to be attempted.

By late afternoon Wednesday, Dr. Wilcox said he had inoculated a total of 250 persons since the program started last week, all but 15 of them children. This is 100 inoculations since noon Tuesday.

Since the program was opened to adults Monday, after an ample supply of gamma globulin was assured, he said there had been "a few more" adults seeking the shots, but the patients still are mostly children.

Dr. Wilcox said at the time of his Wednesday count he had 15 persons in his waiting room and they are coming in about as fast as he can take care of them. Wednesday he added another of-

Martin Plans 3-Week Tour

KEARNEY (AP)—David Martin, candidate for the long-term Republican senatorial nomination, announced plans for a three-week campaign tour modeled after the Republican fall caravan of election years.

The tour, scheduled to start in Martin's home town of Kearney Monday, June 28, will include short stops in 89 cities and towns in the state.

Accompanied by his wife and two sons, Martin said he would talk for about 10 minutes at each stop and then shake hands and pass out cards.

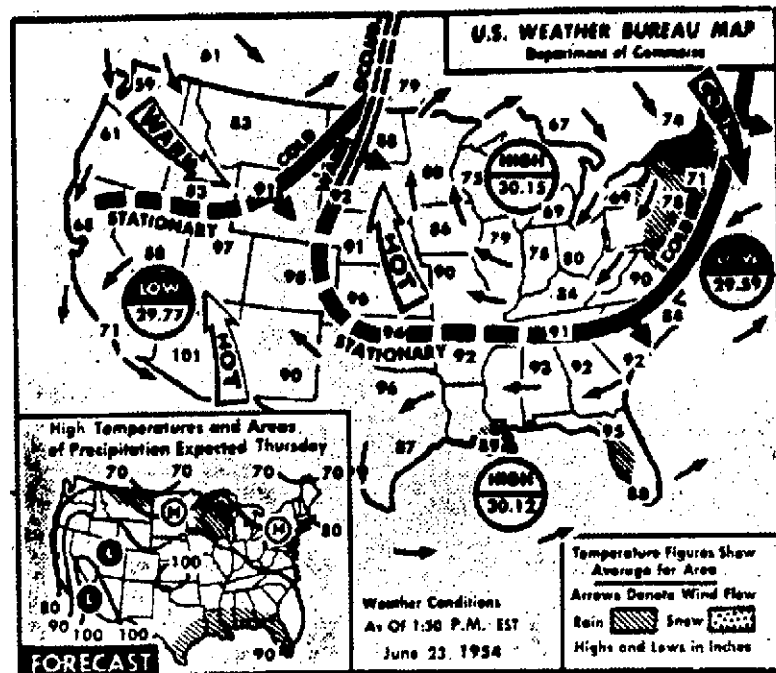

In a two-month tour of the state, which ended two weeks ago, Martin set out to shake 400 hands each day. At the end of seven weeks he estimated he had pumped an average of 2,400 hands a week or from 16 to 20 thousand to that time.

During the first week of the second tour, Martin expects to visit northeastern and southeastern towns. He will tour through southern, western and northern portions of Nebraska the second week, and wind up the caravan in the central part of the state the last week.

Martin has endorsed flexible farm price supports, the Bricker amendment to limit treaty making powers of the President and ending of economic aid to Europe.

Snyder Seeks Post

ALLIANCE, Neb. (AP)—Harold R. Snyder, longtime Alliance resident, filed for Box Butte County assessor on the Republican ticket. He was the fifth to file for the post. Candidates include the incumbent, John Jellinek.

Generally Fair Weather Stated Thursday

weather is expected in the northeast, the Dakotas and northern Rockies, while a rising trend will be noted in the Ohio and Tennessee Valleys and the upper Mississippi Valley. (AP Wirephoto Map.)

A mild winter and the 1953 drought which contributed to an extremely heavy egg laying activity last fall are blamed for this summer's large hopper crop.
